Beyond the campus environmental promotion activities

At PRMS Mahavidyalaya, our vision for a sustainable future extends far beyond the confines of our campus. We are deeply committed to integrating green initiatives into the broader community, recognizing that meaningful environmental change requires collective effort and local engagement.

Our external green activities are designed to tackle a variety of environmental challenges and promote eco-friendly practices outside the academic setting. We actively participate in community-based projects such as neighborhood clean-ups, natural resource conservation efforts, and waste reduction campaigns. Additionally, we support local environmental groups and advocate for green policies through the rally, workshops, seminars, and collaborative events.

By working closely with community members, businesses, and local authorities, PRMS Mahavidyalaya seeks to create a ripple effect that encourages sustainable living and environmental stewardship. Our goal is to inspire individuals and organizations alike to take actionable steps toward a healthier planet, demonstrating that our commitment to the environment is both expansive and inclusive.
